

4/Pm
6

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
BUREAU OF INTELLIGENCE AND RESEARCH

WHAT THE SOVIET PEOPLE ARE BEING TOLD THROUGH THE SOVIET PRESS AND
(NOVEMBER 6)

1. Summary - The Cuban crisis received even less attention in the Moscow press on November 6 than on November 5 with press and radio attention spotlighted on the 45th anniversary of the October Revolution. Khrushchev's message of congratulation to Khrushchev on his policy in the Cuban crisis received some attention in Pravda and was repeated by the Soviet action in Cuba was also referred to as "wise" in Todor Zhivkov's address to the Bulgarian Party Congress as reported by Pravda, but principal subject of the address was expulsion of the six Bulgarian Communist leaders. TASS reported briefly and without comment on continued meetings between Mikoyan and the Cuban leaders. The few Cuban items transmitted in Russian by VOA on November 6 were jammed.
2. Short Reference to Cuba in Malinovsky's Order - Minister of Defense Malinovsky's Order of the Day on the 45th anniversary of the October Revolution contained two paragraphs on Cuba in which he stated that the US quarantine had violated international law and threatened nuclear war. The "firmly and consistently" peaceful foreign policy of the Soviet Union removed the threat of US invasion of Cuba and a consequent military conflict, he said. The Order was widely distributed by TASS to the Soviet press.
3. Zhivkov Praises Soviet Policy on Cuba - In the course of his address to the Bulgarian Party Congress (reported to Soviet audiences by Pravda and TASS) Bulgarian Central Committee First Secretary Zhivkov praised Khrushchev for his wise policy over Cuba and said that even the "smallest manifestation of narrowmindedness or rashness could have had only grave consequences for mankind."
4. Jamming - The single reference to Cuba in today's VOA Russian news broadcast, concerning the departure of International Red Cross officials for New York, was jammed as was a feature article, "Berlin Seen in Cuba's Light."

TRANSCRIBED PAGE FOLLOWS

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
BUREAU OF INTELLIGENCE AND RESEARCH

WHAT THE SOVIET PEOPLE ARE BEING TOLD THROUGH THE SOVIET PRESS AND RADIO
(NOVEMBER 6)

1. Summary - The Cuban crisis received even less attention in the Moscow press on November 6 than on November 5 with press and radio attention spotlighted on the 45th anniversary of the October Revolution. Nasser's message of congratulations to Khrushchev on his policy in the Cuban crisis received some attention in Pravda and was repeated by TASS. Soviet action in Cuba was also referred to as "wise" in Todor Zhivkov's address to the Bulgarian Party Congress as reported by Pravda, but the principal subject of the address was expulsion of the six Bulgarian Communist leaders. TASS reported briefly and without comment on continued meetings between Mikoyan and the Cuban leaders. The few Cuba items transmitted in Russian by VOA on November 6 were jammed.
2. Short Reference to Cuba in Malinovskiy Order - Minister of Defense Malinovskiy's Order of the Day on the 45th anniversary of the October Revolution contained two paragraphs on Cuba in which he stated that the US quarantine had violated international law and threatened nuclear war. The "firmly and consistently" peaceful foreign policy of the Soviet Union removed the threat of US invasion of Cuba and a consequent military conflict, he said. The Order was widely distributed by TASS to the Soviet press.
3. Zhivkov Praises Soviet Policy on Cuba - In the course of his address to the Bulgarian Party Congress (reported to Soviet audiences by Pravda and TASS) Bulgarian Central Committee First Secretary Zhivkov praised Khrushchev for his wise policy over Cuba and said that even the "smallest manifestation of narrowmindedness or rashness could have had only grave consequences for mankind."
4. Jamming - The single reference to Cuba in today's VOA Russian news broadcast, concerning the departure of International Red Cross officials for New York, was jammed as was a feature article, "Berlin Seen in Cuba's Light."